

In February, the Permanent Delegation of the Republic of Serbia to UNESCO hosted presentations of Serbian traditional music and national cuisine. A musical evening on the premises of the Delegation on 21 February was curated by musicologist Vojin Jaglicic, who focused particularly on the music originating from Kosovo and Metohija and provided expert insight into the musical numbers played. Serbian folk song and dance ensemble "Kolo" performed the song "Nightingale, sing not in the morning" ("Bilbil pile, ne poj rano").

The national cuisine was presented on 25 February, including a screening of "Soulfood Serbia" promotional video by the Tourism Organization of Serbia, while the guests had an opportunity to sample some Serbian national cuisine specialties prepared by the staff of the Serbian Permanent Delegation to UNESCO.
